One Flock: Scott Hahn Reflects on the Sixteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Readings

Jeremiah 23:1–16

Psalms 23:1–6

Ephesians 2:13–18

Mark 6:30–34

As the Twelve return from their first missionary journey in today's Gospel, our readings continue to reflect on the authority and mission of the Church.

Jeremiah says in the First Reading that Israel's leaders, through godlessness and fanciful teachings, had misled and scattered God's people. He promises God will send a shepherd, a king and son of David, to gather the lost sheep and appoint for them new shepherds (see Ezekiel 34:23).

The crowd gathering on the green grass (see Mark 6:39) in today's Gospel is the start of the remnant that Jeremiah promised would be brought back to the meadow of Israel. The people seem to sense that Jesus is the Lord, the good shepherd (see John 10:11), the king they've been waiting for (see Hosea 3:1–5).

Jesus is moved to pity, seeing them as sheep without a shepherd. This phrase was used by Moses to describe Israel's need for a shepherd to succeed him (see Numbers 27:17). And as Moses appointed Joshua, Jesus appointed the Twelve to continue shepherding His people on earth.

Jesus had said there were other sheep who did not belong to Israel's fold but would hear His voice and be joined to the one flock of the one shepherd (see John 10:16).

In God's plan, the Church is to seek out first the lost sheep of the house of Israel and then to bring all nations into the fold (see Acts 13:36; Romans 1:16).

Paul, too, in today's Epistle, sees the Church as a new creation, in which those nations who were once far off from God are joined as "one new person" with the children of Israel.

As we sing in today's Psalm, through the Church, the Lord, our good shepherd, still leads people to the verdant pastures of the kingdom, to the restful waters of baptism; He still anoints with the oil of confirmation, and spreads the Eucharistic table before all people, filling their cups to overflowing.

Greetings Faithful Parishioners in Christ,

The ancient image of the Good Shepherd that Scott Hahn is using in his scriptural reflection column next to this column come from the Catacomb of Priscilla dated in the 3rd - 4th century. Jesus as Good Shepherd is one of the first images that the early Christians used to depict Jesus.

Our Lord Jesus Christ is the Good Shepherd Who leads and guides us as mentioned in today's Psalm 23. He does this through His Church as He founded it on St. Peter (Mt 16:18-9) and the other eleven apostles and their successors Pope Francis and the Bishops in union with the Pope. We parish priests are your local shepherds only as an extension of our local Ordinary, Bishop DeGrood.

In our modern times this shepherding is called pastoral care done with pastoral charity. This is what I focus on as an essential service to every person whether they are Catholic or not. All of us need shepherding, including myself.

I encourage everyone to consider their need for pastoral care. In today's gospel (Mk 6:30-34) Jesus' heart was moved with pity for the people in the vast crowd because they were like sheep without a shepherd. Everyone needs pastoral care and counseling, not necessarily spiritual direction.

Pastor care has an overarching view on providing whatever care is needed to help the person, couple, family, or parish similar to how a general practice medical doctor oversees a patient's general health. Pastoral counseling gets more specific like going to a specialist medical doctor. This helps identify the next steps that need to be taken and oversees how it goes. If professional services including counseling is needed, then referrals are made.

When the individual improves, their relationships with God, their spouse and family, their neighbor, and within themselves improves. All of our relationships need improving. We don't ever need to be like sheep without the Good Shepherd who do not have hope and need reconciliation and healing.

Your Parish Priest in Christ,

Fr. Simon
