September 3, 2023 22nd Sunday in Ordinary Time

Fr. Joe's Jottings

As the month of August ends it is hoped that the excessive heat has run its course. It is truly amazing how much the weather affects our attitude. Any extreme seems to propel most of us into some orbit. It really doesn't matter whether it is wind, precipitation, or temperature, we react rather than response to exaggeration. Living in South Dakota, where there is a huge variety of climatic observations, gives us the opportunity too discuss and quibble about the weather. Some days I wonder if God smiles about our superlatives of how difficult the living conditions are for each of us. Of course, there are many more important realities in our lives that demand far more attention.

Each of us needs to reflect on how we are conveying the doctrines and dogmas of the church to the next generation. It is not simple to determine what exactly is the most correct way of catechizing the next generation. There are so many good mediums, but one might be better than others. But it does take all of us in the process to find the more correct solution. Therefore, the appeal remains that we need more volunteers.

The first and best of teachers are always the parents so in each of our communities we relay almost exclusively on the adults in each house to be the first and best of evangelists in the ways of faith. We have additional copies of the set ablaze prayer that can be recited and prayed at home with the whole family. Everyone is welcome to take a prayer card from the pew to pray as family.

May our pastorate be recognized for being a prayerful group of believers. Have a great week.

Saint Joseph School news

ST. JOSEPH SCHOOL

(605) 224-7185

StJosephSchool@k12.sd.us www.sjspierre.org

Principal, Becky Walsh Secretary, Clare Charlson

“Let there be peace on earth, and let it begin with me,” are lyrics from the song Let There Be Peace on Earth by Sy & Jill Miller. The song was written and composed for the mouths of children to proclaim. It is a beacon of hope which exclaims that all people, including our youth, can bring peace into their environment.

St. Joseph School shines with that peace. I had always been told by people that have visited the school either for a tour, to work with a child, or to participate in a class event, that there is this peace that exudes from the school. Throughout my years of teaching, I felt that peace in my classroom. My focus was on my surroundings. As a principal, I am now experiencing the calmness, order, and peace of the entire school. You can open any door in the school and the children are engaged, on task, and at peace.

That type of peace comes from the education of our faith. The staff and students are constantly reminded of Christ's presence in our school. The closeness to Him only brings peace and contentment. What a blessing it is to be surrounded by that daily.

There is a quote that cements this notion that faith and peace are related. Croft M. Pentz wrote, “No God, no peace; know God, know peace.” Here at St. Joseph School we are striving to know God.

It is never too late to join our family at St. Joseph School! Click on the QR code to learn more about St. Joseph School.
