Fr. Joe's Jottings

It has been a while since I composed my last communique to everyone. In the pastorate restructuring, one goal has been to work towards making the priests empowered to pray for the needs of every soul. This is accomplished through information that is gathered and conveyed to the pastor and parochial vicar. Therefore, in each parish we have someone who checks the voicemails, emails, and snail mail. In Hoven, that is Karen Jacobs, while Raechael Wiley does that in Onida, Michele Snyder has that task in Pierre and Bev Thomas coordinates the office in the rectory in Gettysburg. Each has weekly tasks to be completed each week and are very responsible. Karen is the newest member and Bev has indicated that she loves her grandchildren, which might demand more time. We also have some great part-time employees and volunteers that help in janitorial and maintenance tasks.

Our pastorate bulletin makes it easy for all of us to be aware of the activities happening throughout the area. Communication will be critical if we are to be collaborative in the proclamation of the Gospel message. In today's world, printed media has waned over the years, but social media has expanded. This pastor may be the only one in all the world who doesn't know the inner workings of Facebook. But many are very connected through that medium. With the increased volume of smart phones, so many are dependent on websites for information. Soon it will be necessary for us to maintain a single website for the pastorate including the transferal and redirecting.

When I was a small child, the radical changes in agriculture, business and family life were never in one's vision. With all the advancements and opportunities because of the various resources available, our local producers and entrepreneurs along with our families have so much potential. Some look to the future with doubt but for those who have faith in God and His Holy Church, the future is to be embraced as we can set the standard. The secular society will advocate values, but we have the challenge to be the moral compass. We are not here to condemn but we are called to encourage conversion and lead by example especially during this time of Eucharistic Revival.

On the Lighter Side - 26th Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Broom

There was a little boy who was scared of the dark. One evening his mother asked him to go out onto the back porch and bring her the broom. The little boy said, "Mama, please don't make me go out there. It's dark and you know I'm scared of the dark."

His mother smiled at him and said reassuringly, "There's no need to be afraid of the dark. Jesus is out there, and he'll look after you and protect you."

The little boy seemed unsure and said, "Are you sure Jesus is out there?"

The mother said, "Yes, I'm sure. Jesus is everywhere and is always there and ready to help when you're in need."

The boy thought for a moment, then went to the back door and opened it a tiny amount. He looked out into the darkness and called out, "Jesus — if you're out there, please pass me the broom."

Principal, Becky Walsh Secretary, Clare Charlson

Everyone has emotions. They are constantly changing, which therefore determines how we express them. Our emotions come out through our movements, interactions, and facial expressions. They are hard to disguise.

I had the joy of talking about emotions, and how we express them with each of the classes through an art project. We talked about the definition of emotion. The students gave examples of a multitude of emotions. When I would act one out, they were able to tell by the way I expressed myself what emotion it was. They could identify the emotion just by my movements and facial expressions. We then talked about how we can express emotions through our art, how some movements and colors express what we are feeling.

As Kids of Christ, we need to learn how to express our emotions in ways that do not disrupt others. We need to know how to work through our emotions and where we can go to find that safe place. God gave us emotions for a reason. They help us deal with problems and communicate with others. It is funny how the smallest among us can interpret almost any emotion because of how it is expressed.

The program 'Circle of Grace' helps the students put their emotions into words in a safe place with a trusted adult. The students are taught that the Circle of Grace is the space around each of us where we believe the Holy Spirit resides. The students determine what enters the holy space around them. They are taught strategies to help them express their emotions safely and with kindness.
